'Solution' Proposed by Goldberg

Ship Lines, Union Ponder Peace Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employers and unions, deadlocked in the nation's big shipping tie-up, today pondered a government peace plan to end the eight-day strike short of an otherwise expected Taft-Hartley court injunction.

President Kennedy is ready, if the ship owners and six striking unions agree, to name a three-man committee to weigh all issues and come up with a recommended solution.

The plan, proposed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg Thursday night, calls for a 60-day strike suspension. Goldberg, saying it was a fair solution to all concerned in the present negotiations stalemate, called for acceptance or rejection by 1 p.m. Saturday.

At that time, Goldberg has an appointment to report to Kennedy. The labor secretary didn't mention the likelihood of invoking the Taft-Hartley law's 80-day emergency injunction provision in the event of a rejection, but his remarks on the gravity of the situation indicated as much.

"If this stoppage is permitted to continue," he said, "it will contribute seriously to worsening the nation's trade and dollar balances."

In New York, there was no immediate comment officially from ship owners or from the various unions representing the striking seamen.

State Senators Head For Home

Legislative Session Windup Due Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's state senators head for home late today—about 24 hours behind their colleagues from the House—for a brief respite before the hectic windup of this 6-month-old legislative session.

A much-amended version of the bill to provide funds for state government from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1963, was recommended out of the Senate Finance Committee Thursday. It comes up for a Senate floor vote next week, setting the stage for the windup of the session that began Jan. 2.

Before the 38 senators and 137 representatives call it quits, however, it's expected that there will be some wild activity as efforts are made to get bills through at the last moment.

Senators had a nine-bill calendar to deal with today. Included are House-approved bills defining an "historical vehicle" as one built on or before Dec. 31, 1926, and exempting licensed nurses, therapists and technicians at Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus from civil service rating.

The House technically was in session today, but actually most members went home Thursday. Only the officers and a handful of members stayed around in a skeleton session that legally could re-

Western Nations Plan To Step Up Europe Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The West is planning to step up its defenses in Europe as evidence of its determination to stand firm on Berlin.

High-ranking officials, in reporting this today, referred to the seriously worded statement Secretary of State Dean Rusk made at his news conference Thursday. He blamed the Soviets for the tension in the world and restated the Western position on Berlin.

No Soviet action, Rusk said,

Sheppard Faces Cancer Tests

Wife Slayer Has Lump On Chest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Convicted wife slayer Dr. Sam Sheppard will be returned to Ohio Penitentiary here today and undergo tests to determine if a lump on his chest was caused by cancer or something else.

The former osteopathic surgeon, an inmate at the Marion Correctional Institution since last Jan. 5 was injected with cancerous tissue in an experiment at the penitentiary three years ago.

Maury C. Koblenz, chief of the Ohio Division of Correction, in announcing that Sheppard will be brought back here for medical tests, said prison physicians have "a very, very grave doubt" that the lump on his chest has anything to do with the cancer experiment.

Koblenz said Sheppard has "a swelling about the size of a penny" on his left chest and a swelling under his left armpit, the latter apparently caused by lymph glands.

Koblenz asserted that none of the 171 inmates who participated in the cancer test have shown any sign of cancer or any "major or serious reaction" from it.

Sheppard is a coach and member of the wrestling team at the Marion institution. Koblenz said Sheppard was kicked in the chest during a wrestling match May 12 but didn't report the lump until May 31.

Koblenz said doctors advised him that the lump could have been caused by a kick, an infection or a skin condition.

However, he added, all necessary tests will be made on Sheppard at Ohio Penitentiary, including probably a biopsy. A biopsy usually is made to determine if cancer exists. It involves taking a skin graft of the affected area and examining it microscopically.

Thomas Mercer, 17, of the Albany Road, received possible head injuries and lacerations of the scalp in the mishap, which occurred on the Georgetown Road, three miles southwest of Salem, at 1:45 p.m.

Mercer was a passenger in the car driven by Michael J. Fenske, 17, of 1520 Carole Circle.

Highway patrolmen said Fenske lost control of the northeast-bound car, causing the auto to go off can extinguish the right of the Western powers in Berlin. Western forces are to remain in the divided German city, he added, and no peaceful solution can be reached at the expense of Western obligations in Berlin.

"The United States and those associated with us are clear and firm about our obligations to ourselves and to the people of West Berlin," Rusk said.

To Beef Up Alliance

The Western powers, informants said, are planning to quicken the beefing up of Atlantic alliance forces in Europe and to increase their state of readiness. This will be done quietly and without fanfare but in a way that should serve as notice to the Soviets.

The thinking behind this strategy is, officials explained, that Soviet Premier Khrushchev does not seem to have been sufficiently impressed by the warnings President Kennedy repeatedly has made. In the past, it is recalled, the Soviet Union often paid attention to a show of force where words were of no avail.

Meanwhile, the United States continues consultations with its allies on the U.S. reply to Khrushchev's June 4 aide memoire on Berlin. The consultations started in Washington last week when Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state for Europe, conferred with Sir Evelyn Shuckberg of the British Foreign Office and with Jean Lalois, French specialist on German affairs.

Waiting For Advice

The State Department now is waiting for advice from Paris and London through normal diplomatic channels and the U.S. reply to the Soviet note is expected to be ready in about a week or 10 days.

Before that, however, Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to Moscow, will have returned to his post. He is due back on the job next Monday after Washington consultations.

It is expected that Thompson will have the opportunity to see Khrushchev and make the U.S. position clear before the American reply reaches Moscow.

In his statement on Berlin on Thursday, Rusk said that the "militant tone" Khrushchev used in a speech Wednesday was disappointing. State Department specialists on Soviet affairs are now trying to find reasons for the sudden toughening in Khrushchev's language.

This change also puzzles Washington diplomats, including some from behind the Iron Curtain. Both American and foreign observers concede that their answers are based mainly on speculation.

Here are the reasons, as listed by the best available sources, for Khrushchev's blunt aggressive language:

1. The Soviet leader has to produce something tangible to satisfy the Soviet Communist party congress when it convenes next October. There are still influential party members who side with the Red Chinese and consider the Khrushchev line in international politics too soft.

2. There is sufficient basis to believe that Khrushchev got only a limited time at the last conference of Communist parties in Moscow last November to prove that his coexistence policy can achieve the sacred goal, the spread of the Communist doctrine, without wars.

3. According to another school of thought, voiced by some diplomats in Washington, Khrushchev is still probing to find out how far he can go in brinkmanship. He is making a last effort to see whether he can find a weak spot in Kennedy's armor.

JFK, 'Feeling Fine', Plays Host to Ikeda

President Recovers From Virus; Walks Without Crutches

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, "feeling fine" in the words of an aide, deserted his sick bed today and played host to Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda.

Kennedy, confined to bed Thursday by a bacteria and virus infection, posed for photographs with the prime minister and then walked into the driveway of the executive mansion to bid a personal farewell.

Ikeda paid a farewell call closing out three days of high-level talks.

The crutches that a back strain had forced Kennedy to use before he was felled by illness were nowhere in sight. He walked slowly, but if he limped at all it was so slightly as to be hardly discernible.

Kennedy canceled a scheduled wind-up conference with Ikeda Thursday after coming down with the virus infection which shot his temperature to 101.6 degrees before it broke. His doctor reported late Thursday that he was recovering very nicely. Kennedy set out to prove it today.

He did, however, yield to advice from the White House physician, Dr. Janet Travell, and agree to remain in his second-floor living quarters in the mansion. Kennedy had passed the word that he planned to divide his time between the mansion itself and his office in the west wing.

Dr. Travell made it clear that she would prefer him to stay in his upstairs quarters. He received Ikeda there.

Aides reported Kennedy feeling "fine."

Kennedy, usually on the go constantly, was sidelined all day Thursday by a mixed bacteria and virus infection that hit him in his sleep. On the advice of White House physician Janet Travell, he stayed in bed.

By late afternoon, Dr. Travell reported he was "making a very nice recovery." He was feeling much better and his temperature was normal. It had jumped to 101.6 degrees at 7 a.m., but under an attack of drugs had retreated to the normal 98.6 four hours later.

After checking him over again at 4 p.m., Dr. Travell told reporters the president had "a lot of zip" and had demanded to know: "How much longer do I have to hang around here?"

Kennedy was then undergoing his enforced rest in his bedroom in the White House living quarters. He had dozed at times during the day, sitting up in his pale blue pajamas to consume three bowls of chicken broth.

Thursday was the day set for Kennedy to demonstrate recovery from his back injury by scrapping the crutches he had been required to use since June 9.

Would Provide $42.7 Billion

House Unit Okays Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's beefed-up defense budget was approved almost to the letter today by the House Appropriations Committee as it painted a dismal picture of world conditions.

The committee sent to the House floor for debate a bill providing $42.7 billion in defense funds for the fiscal year starting July 1. The money will expand the Polaris submarine fleet, buy more big bombers and missiles, and finance larger armed forces.

While this was a technical cut of $231 million from the amount requested by the President, a bookkeeping transaction reduced the actual cut to $6.2 million.

It is $2.4 billion more than the military was given by Congress for the current fiscal year.

In a formal report written by Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., the committee said it followed the President's defense program closely because of "the worsening world situation."

It said it felt that the military strength of the United States was superior to that of the Soviet Union and would remain that way.

"The threat of global war has not lessened," it continued. "The threat of limited war has not lessened. Indeed, it is felt that there has been a general worsening of the international situation since last summer. The prospect for an early settlement of major world problems is dim. This is a time for firmness, strength and resolution."

Public Relations Is Medical Society Topic

The importance of good communications with the public was stressed when key committee chairman of the Columbiana County Medical Society and county newspaper and radio men held a dinner meeting at Timberlanes Thursday evening.

The doctors were hosts at the informal session. Dr. Leonard S. Pritchard of Columbiana, president, was in charge.

Others attending included Dr. V. C. Hart of Salem, secretary of the Medical Society; Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, and Dr. J. A. Fraser of East Liverpool, Sixth District officer.

Cuban Chief Accuses U.S. Group of Lying

Will Send Rebels To Explain Position To American Public

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro rejected today the latest offer of the Tractors for Freedom Committee but said he would send a delegation of captured rebels back to the United States to explain his position to the American public.

In the rejection, reported by Havana radio, Castro charged that the committee lied when it accused Castro of changing his position. He said the committee tried to confuse public opinion.

Had Set Noon Deadline

The Tractors for Freedom Committee had set a noon deadline today in a take-it-or-leave-it ultimatum that capped nearly a month of negotiations.

The committee's final offer was to exchange the prisoners for 500 bulldozers of various types, mostly farm tractors.

It said that if Castro failed to accept, money received from contributors to the tractor fund would be returned to the senders.

The radio quoted Castro as saying that from the very beginning he had clearly specified the number and type of tractors he wanted.

Castro originally offered to exchange the men captured in the April-18 invasion of Cuba for 500 bulldozers. In his proposal, May 17, Castro used the English word "bulldozers."

1,000 Instead of 500

After meeting in Havana with representatives of the Tractors for Freedom Committee, Castro said he would accept smaller types of tractors, but stipulated that he would have to get 1,000 of them, instead of 500.

In his reply to the committee today, the radio quoted Castro as saying the committee had been silent about an alternative proposal. That proposal, he said, was to abandon the tractor deal if the captured invaders were exchanged on a man-for-man basis for an equal number of "political prisoners" in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Spain.

Castro also said the committee had been silent about another proposal to exchange the invasion leaders for Francisco (the Hook) Molina, a pro-Castro Cuban who is awaiting sentencing in New York City on a second-degree murder charge; Pedro Albizu Campos, a Puerto Rican nationalist leader who is under guard in a San Juan hospital, and Henry Winston, a jailed American Communist party leader.

The three invasion leaders are Capt. Manuel Artime, Jose San Roman, and Rafael Bolivar Fuentes.

The committee had asked Castro for a list of prisoners who would be subject to the exchange. The original number was 1,214 but Castro's list included only 1,167. Today, the radio quoted Castro

Ohio Group Urges Additional $16.7 Million Cut In Budget

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Additional cuts of about $16.7 million in the two-year state budget have been proposed by the Senate Finance Committee.

And the adjutant general's department is one of the first to protest, contending that elimination of the entire $542,540 state civil defense appropriation could result in a first-class public scandal.

The finance committee finished tacking 71 amendment on the House-approved bill late Thursday. The vote to recommend it for Senate passage was 8-5, strictly along party lines in the Republican-dominated committee.

As recommended by the committee, the total appropriation for operating state government from July 1 of this year to June 30, 1963, would be $2,025,392,846.

The total finally agreed upon is expected to be higher than this because, even if the Senate agrees when the bill comes up for a floor vote next week, it still must be the subject of a Senate-House conference on Senate amendments.

Somewhere along the line, most legislators think, at least a few of the appropriations trimmed out by the committee will be restored.

This tentative $2 1/2 billion total is about $42.6 million less than what Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat, asked from the Republican-controlled legislature.

Even the $2,068,000,000 request by DiSalle was an alternate to his original, which, Republicans charged was $75 million out of line with anticipated state income.

After the House Finance Committee trimmed about $26 million from DiSalle's $2,068,000,000 request, and the House passed the bill, the governor and members of his cabinet charged that Republicans had cut too deeply in appropriations for mental health and welfare.

The state welfare department is affected by the largest single cut made by the Senate committee—$5,802,580.

But the half-million-dollar cut that apparently dooms state civil defense activities has resulted in the sharpest reaction so far.

Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom says hundreds of thousands of dollars of communications, transportation, mass feeding and other equipment will have to be stored. There is no money provided to do so, he claims.

Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wayne, Chairman of the House Finance Committee, said money might be found to arrange storage.

Windom said he also wants to find out how an end to state civil defense coordination efforts might affect county and city programs.

The $2,025,392,846 total recommended for Senate consideration is $176.6 million more than the amount appropriated by the 1959 legislature for the two-year period just ending.

20 Years After the Blunder

This is the 20th anniversary of the blunder that saved Josef Stalin's Russian regime from disgrace by fiasco.

One of the monstrous paradoxes of the 20th century is the way one fiasco turned out so disastrously it averted another one. When Adolf Hitler set the German invasion of Russia in motion 20 years ago, he did the one thing that could save Stalinism. He did not do it from the outset but only after he was sure in his own mind that Russia was certain to collapse under German pressure.

Then he made his blunder.

He made the presence of German troops on Russian soil so hateful that millions of Russians concluded they had no choice but to defend Mother Russia — not to defend Stalin, who was despised, not to defend the Communists, who were terrorists, but the Nazis, who had desecrated the motherland with their savagery.

HITLER MADE Russians grow reconciled to their Communist dictators. It was their only chance to escape extermination by their would-be Nazi dictators. The extremism practiced by Hitlerites against Russians in Russia and against Jews everywhere alienated the world.

Inside Russia, particularly, it made people cling together for protection. They were forced to turn for collective security to the same inept government whose stupidity had betrayed them to invasion. Stalin never was to live down has had record in dealing with Hitler and failing to prepare Russia for the German madman's ultimate attack. But he came out of the war stronger than he was when the attack on Russia began.

The record was glossed over by the staunch courage of the Russian people, who died by the millions and would have died by the tens of millions to save their beloved country. By a simple transfer of loyalty from one thing to another, Communists made it appear that the dying and sacrificing were for their dictatorship.

IT WAS NOT Communists who saved Russia. It was Russians who saved Communists by defending their beloved country after it had been left defenseless by a bad government.

Even then, Russia could not have been saved without massive aid from the United States, whose generosity put the Russian people so deeply into debt to the United States that their political masters have been trying to conceal it with a hate campaign ever since the end of World War II.

All of this has happened in 20 years. Communism in Russia was on the ropes. It was saved by the man who had dedicated his life to destroy it and whose aim had been proclaimed a thousand times. On the eve of the Nazi invasion of Russia that started June 22, 1941, Stalin still believed Hitler was his ally, but Hitler never had been anything but Russia's deadliest enemy.

Big As An Elephant

Inquiring senators have been trying to find out why television entertainment features so much violence and sex when there is nearly unanimous opinion among critics of TV shows that violence and sex are being grossly overdone.

It is not in all ways fortunate that this kind of inquiry is in connection with concern over children.

It would be more realistic if the television industry would ask questions of its own in connection with what should be its deep concern about adults.

The easiest thing for television to do would be to fool itself with its untested ways of measuring audience interest. It might end up with an audience composed entirely of people with no objection to watching endless repetitions of overemphasized and overacted scenes of sex and violence.

It might not realize that this could lure it into a self-destructing illusion that it was pleasing a mass public when in fact it was catering to nothing but the lack of taste and discrimination on the part of an undue fraction of the mass public.

THE MASS PUBLIC must include all categories, or it is not in truth the mass.

Good Labor Relations

A mutual agreement between union and management at the Thomas Works of the H. K. Porter Co. in Lisbon apparently has shelved company plans to move its manufacturing operations elsewhere.

The brick and clay worker unionists had been asked by the company to forego, for three months at least, a 7-cent-an-hour wage boost due them in July. The company is optimistic about the future but officials pointed out that the firm has been operating at a loss for the last four years. Something had to be done.

The union workers are to be commended for reconsidering their previous rejection of the company proposal. Lisbon needs the H. K. Porter Co. whose officials now know that its 174 employees have the firm's interests at heart. The stabilizing factor may be the means of a better future for the company and its workers.

Once Over

Other cities are checking on school conditions following New York scandal over the shocking state of dangerous disrepair of some buildings long reported and long ignored.

In a day of no-stop emphasis on better schools it's flabbergasting to find indications that the people running them could be given lower marks than backward pupils. Bureaucracy and red tape are blamed. (Is this the age of the Little Red Tape Schoolhouse?)

If kids can be punished for inattention to classrooms how about school officials who seem asleep? There are charges that responsible school chiefs and deputies are eligible for diplomas for advanced indifference.

Many New York schools have been found in such bad shape its hard to be sure whether they have been vandalized or just operated according to form.

Pa and Ma thought Junior was not getting good education, but they never suspected it was because he was standing under a leaky roof, with the teacher half buried in falling plaster.

Situation has been so bad that kids could come home and report "Mom, I've been promoted. I've moved two seats away from the big leak in ceiling."

Mortimer Topblower says his boy was in the same grade two years because he couldn't get out of a hole in the floor.

And there's a report one moppet, when rebuked by father for neglecting his school duties replied, "But I'm still far ahead of the education department."

BILLY BARNES revue had to open on public. Failure to understand this misled the motion picture industry, which at one time was driving away the kind of people whose interest and respect it needed. It also misled the radio industry. It misled the newspaper industry at one time, too, when success with sensationalism in news-reporting tempted the industry to believe sensationalism was the key to success.

Television is not quite as bad as its heartless critics say it is. But it is not as good as its apologists want to think it is, either. It shows many signs of trying to make the error it has seen other media make before its time—the error of believing that it can survive on the support, or at least the absence of disapproval, of an audience that has no inclination to be critical.

IF THIS WERE TRUE, burlesque would be setting the pattern for the legitimate stage. Publishers would be turning all their energies to the worst of the trash that the public buys by the trainload.

There would be no classical music played. The lowest common denominator would be the rule in everything. But no medium can survive on the support of only part of the mass audience, even if it's the largest part.

The inquiring senators who are trying to learn why television seems determined to repeat a mistake made many times before are ignoring a fact as big as an elephant.

Television is being lured down a garden path by statistical illusion that all its needs to survive is numbers.

It will have to find out the hard way that it also needs to please a cross-section of the population, not only because it must produce as much revenue as it can, being a business, but because it must satisfy all people, being a federally licensed enterprise.

'Ol' Rockin' Chair's Got Me!

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

'Tis a puzzlement. The U.S. Defense Department suddenly has reversed its tough position on sales of strategic American precision tools and automatic machinery to the Soviet Union.

Note that 90 days before this shift in policy the Pentagon went officially on record with a blunt statement that the $5 million worth of equipment I will discuss here would help the Soviets make war. But today word quietly has gone out that defense officials now no longer object to such a sale.

This equipment would enable the Russians to beef up their creaking internal transport system. Without such bolstering the U.S.S.R. military high command would have difficulty mobilizing without stripping all civilian activities of their vehicles.

No one knows why the Pentagon has changed its policy on feeding Soviet industrialism. But here is evidence that it most certainly has:

THIS SHORT SAGA starts in February.

At any time California's congressman, Glenard P. Lipscomb, learned that the Russians had contracted in the U.S. for the purchase of "a multistation machine for machining V-8 cylinder blocks... and for a multistation machine for machining V-8 cylinder heads."

This heavy equipment can mill, drill, bore, ream, tap and otherwise make perfect aluminum castings for use in mass production of all metal manufactures.

It can make more than refrigerators. It can whip out giant tractors, electrical motors and huge personnel carrier trucks—as well as vehicles for swift trundling of cannon and rocket equipment.

The Soviets "are placing heavy emphasis on the production of such 'transfer machines' at the current time because they are vital in solving production problems of complex and highly specialized equipment," Lipscomb said.

There were also sales contracts for machinery which could make vital gears. At this point, Lipscomb wrote to the Defense Department asking why this was being permitted and what aid such machines would give the Soviets.

ON FEB. 23, a most knowing reply came from Hayden Williams, deputy assistant secretary, Department of Defense:

"The receipt of this equipment by the U.S.S.R.," Mr. Williams wrote, "would contribute to the Soviet military and economic warfare potential."

In other sections of this letter, this Pentagon spokesman said quite definitely:

"The products of these transfer-type machine tools are clearly of military value. V-8 cylinder blocks, the product of these machines, are a necessary part of engines for medium-size supply trucks and personnel carriers which are vital to logistical support to the Soviet armed forces...."

The Pentagon at that time believed that this machinery produced in the U.S. was far superior to any available anywhere: "The technology contained in the transfer machines produced in the U.S. is the most advanced in the world. So far as this department knows, the U.S.S.R. has not installed this type of machinery for manufacturing cylinder blocks and heads...."

What use could this be to brush-fire bent Soviet offensives? The letter said:

"In an emergency, military requirements could be met only by (the U.S.S.R.) withdrawing many vehicles from nonmilitary use...."

In other words, if U.S. machinery made possible mass production of vehicles, we would be speeding the military transport facilities of the Soviets.

AFTER THIS LETTER was dispatched, the secretary of commerce revoked the export licenses for sale of this equipment to the Russians.

This case, it should be noted, is separate from the revocation of licenses for the sale of vital ball bearings to the Russians. The matter seemed finished when Lipscomb heard from the Defense Department on May 17.

This second letter said simply, "I should inform you that the department has withdrawn its objection to the licensing for export of certain machines (the same reported here) for the manufacture of automobile parts." This was signed by Roswell L. Gilpatrick, deputy secretary of defense.

In a third letter, Gilpatrick says that "the question of delivery time is a matter of some conjecture, but the opinion is generally held... that delivery from U.S. sources would be earlier. On balance this aspect seemed to be of minor importance in the department's consideration of the case."

It seems to me what the gentlemen from defense was saying was that American equipment would speed Soviet production and that a delay to the Russians of even a day or a month or a year in this race for time was not consequential.

These are all honorable men, the Defense Department policy makers. But what sort of policy is this? Why is there a reversal? Or are Laos, Cuba and the Congo just a sort of gay international tennis match with the winner getting a loving cup?

Foreign Aid Hypocrisy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Is Courted And Condemned

Foreign aid is arousing unusual attention in Congress — and some rather surprising opposition. This is based upon various manifestations of public opinion inside the United States.

But to begin to understand the foreign aid problem, one has only to read some of the news dispatches from other parts of the world. Here, for example, is a United Press International dispatch that came on June 19 from Quito Ecuador:

"Ambassador Adlai Stevenson decided to extend his visit to Ecuador today, delighted at an unexpected display of warmth for the U.S. and signs of increasing coolness toward communism here...."

"The climate appeared to have changed radically from just six months ago when students stoned the U.S. Embassy and President Ibarra praised Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a great world leader."

"Stevenson arranged to meet with Ibarra today for a long talk on ways to avoid problems that have strained U.S.-Ecuadorian relations in the past."

Not many hours later on the same day came another United Press International dispatch from Quito which read as follows:

"Ecuador asked Ambassador Adlai Stevenson today for more than $200 million in immediate credits 'to break the shackles of poverty.'"

"A government memorandum submitted to Stevenson promised that the funds would be used 'prudently and judiciously... to advance decisively the economic and social development of Ecuador.'"

Obviously, all this did not develop in just a few hours, but was carefully prepared in advance. There is no good reason why Latin American countries should be deprived of American aid — financial, economic, or cultural. But the hypocrisy of the whole business is the constant claim that 'when the United States extends aid' there must be 'no strings attached.'"

The Soviets insist that they furnish aid "without any strings," but the truth is they infiltrate the governments "the press and the student groups in the countries to which they lend money" and it is the free hand given their Communist agents which is more important to the Soviets today than any commitments in policy by the governments that are aided.

FOREIGN AID, therefore, has become a kind of international game in which the United States is being courted by those who want funds, and condemned by demonstrations and otherwise in the countries where financial aid may not be forthcoming in amounts desired therein.

There are, of course, situations in which foreign aid is described as a means of fighting "poverty, hunger and disease." For many decades the American people, through the International Red Cross and other organizations, have been quick to make gifts of money to aid the victims of fami or earthquakes or other disasters.

The people of the United States have always been generous to help human beings who suffer in any great calamity.

But the truth is that much of the money that now goes abroad through foreign aid is intended for economic development. This is something in which private individuals usually participate, and big profits are sometimes made by the citizens of the country which is benefited.

A REALISTIC appraisal of the foreign aid problem would include a study of just how much profit is made by individuals abroad as a result of the American government's aid.

There is no objection to the making of such profits but certainly the United States has a right to expect that loans will not be regarded as gifts and will be repaid after a reasonable length of time.

To put it another way, the United States does not really have to make gifts to most of the countries that are now receiving foreign aid.

A form of lending at low rates of interest is a legitimate instrument for the furnishing of such aid. This is why there have arisen in recent years such institutions as the Inter-American Development Bank, the Export-Import Bank and similar agencies.

In the past, moreover, individual American corporations have invested large sums in foreign countries. Many of them are continuing to do the same thing now, and this has probably been a bigger factor in developing those countries than any grants or loans by the American government.

Unfortunately, just at a time when American companies are increasing their investments for the building of plants in foreign countries, the Congress of the United States is being urged by some administration officials to tax American companies abroad and discourage such investment.

The desire seems to be to use American grants for the building up of socialistic enterprises in foreign countries which would tend to discourage the free-enterprise system.

A BATTLE seems to be shaping up between the advocates here of the free enterprise system and those who perhaps unwittingly are leaning toward a socialistic system.

Certainly the American people have a right to expect members of Congress to examine carefully all the proposals for extending financial aid to other countries in the world so as to make sure that their money is being invested in a good cause, and that it is not being frittered away in schemes that benefit a small number of people in the country that is aided.

Ambassador Stevenson, after visiting 10 South American countries, is returning with requests for aid estimated to total $3 billion.

Goofy Story

By FRANCIS STILLEY

For Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—As pump-kinhead amateur gardeners go, I just about went batty—trying to solve the mystery of my vanishing marigolds.

It's a goofy story, though when I tell it I get the impression people think it's me who's goofy. Here's what happened:

I started some small marigolds in pots in the house. When they got about three inches tall, I transplanted them to the postage-stamp-sized garden in front of my apartment.

I basked in a warm glow of satisfaction, knowing that not only my marigolds but the petunias, zinnias, cosmos, and pansies all were going to do well this year. After all, I put 100 pounds of peat moss, two bushels of humus and gallons of a super-duper liquid-growth mixture into my 1-100,000th of an acre.

A few days after transplanting the small marigolds, I discovered they were disappearing one by one. The peculiar part was that they had been snapped off cleanly at the stem about an inch above ground.

At first, I thought perhaps stray boomerangs from neighbor children had done it. But this is a yo-yo year.

Then, while sitting on the front porch one night, I was sure I had the answer. Several stray cats threw a party in my garden, all but wrecking a fine clump of pinks before I could break up the festivities.

This explanation didn't hold up either, unfortunately. The marigolds kept disappearing—but now, roots and all, without a trace left. At dusk a few days ago came the astonishing revelation. While standing in front of the house, chatting with a neighbor lady who hadn't planted any marigolds in her garden, my eye happened to fall on my own botanical wonderland.

A bird about the size of a robin was just yanking out another of the marigolds. And zoom!—like a Redstone rocket it went whizzing right by me, clutching my marigold in its pesky beak. In a few seconds, it was out of sight behind buildings across the street.

GAS AIR CONDITIONING

for their homes. Most everyone heats with GAS and is familiar with its economies and performance. So, when people learn about economical, complete-home, GAS air conditioning, they want it!

Every room in your home can be cool, regardless of simmering summer temperatures. You can sleep comfortably... cook and bake in relaxed coolness... have fresh, cool air throughout the house for comfort and health. Comes winter and your GAS cooling system readily converts to heating... filtered, fresh-air GAS heating that keeps the whole house snug and clean for your comfort.

You can have a GAS add-on central air conditioning unit installed in your present forced air heating system, probably using the existing furnace ductwork for cooling. In either case, whole-house GAS air conditioning costs less than you might think.

If you are planning to buy or build a new home or to remodel your present home, find out about GAS air conditioning. The installation costs of a central GAS heating-cooling system can be financed through the Gas Company, and you can make the payments right along with your regular gas bill. Call your Gas Company for full information.

BUNN
GOOD SHOES

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Answers To Questions

Q—A SCHOOL PRINCIPAL asks "Should sneakers be worn by children in place of shoes or should their use be limited to gym activities?"

A—Most of the foot disturbances of later life are the result of the combination of slovenly shoeing and misuses and abuses of the feet.

Dr. H. T. Hyman

Each of these causes contributes to the other. Faulty gait causes faulty wear of shoes. Faulty shoes produce faulty gait. And the combination of the two faults eventually produces fallen arches, bunions, ingrown toenails, corns, planter warts, hammer toes, foot strains and most disturbances of the lower back (so-called "lumbago").

Now a school principal would probably have to neglect all of his many other duties and obligations if he tried to correct faults in gait. And I doubt if parents or children will pay much attention to his recommendations about shoes. Good shoes are expensive and they take a terrible beating. And sneakers are the order of the day with most of the younger set, especially since they're easy to slip on and off. So, with no great confidence that my advice will be heeded, I nevertheless would urge limiting the use of sneakers to gym activities if I had anything to say about the matter.

Q—"I'VE JUST BEEN MARRIED and our first child was a mongoloid. I know the condition is very rare but I can't find out if there's a chance that our next child will be the same. My husband and I both love children and we just couldn't stand being only lived a few months."

A—According to best available sources of information, mongolism is probably in the category of embryopathic disorders. That means that the disturbance occurs to the baby during the months that it was carried in its mother's womb. Hence it is not apt to occur to the next baby as it would if it were due to some hereditary disease or disorder.

I would certainly encourage our correspondent to make at least one more trial of pregnancy.

However, it might be a wise precaution for both parents to have complete examinations, including blood tests, before conception is attempted.

Then, if all is well, as I am sure it will be, they will have every prospect of producing a fine, healthy baby.

the left side of road, rip out 30 feet of guard rail and come to rest in water at the edge of a lake.

Another passenger in the car, Douglas E. Painchaud, 17, of 1980 Southeast Blvd., was uninjured.

The car received considerable damage, patrolmen said. Fenske was cited for reckless operation.

Edward F. Durda, 36, of Youngstown, received bruises of the right knee and abrasions of the body when his car collided with another auto on Rt. 267, two and one-quarter miles north of East Liverpool, at 7:40 a.m.

Patrolmen said Durda drove his southbound car from a side road into the path of a westbound auto being driven by Carl R. Latham, 34, of Wellsville, causing extensive damage to both vehicles. Durda was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Minor damage was received by both cars involved in a mishap on County Road 424, three miles north of East Liverpool, at 12:45 p.m.

The Patrol said Gerald I. Gilbert, 32, of Indiana Blvd., Salem, drove his northbound car out of a Township Road into a westbound auto being operated by Marie Mar Lucas, 31, of East Liverpool. Gilbert was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Narrow width of Hamilton Road, four miles north of East Liverpool, helped cause a two-car collision at 4:05 p.m. Patrolmen reported that cars operated by Rudy S. Golubic, 48, of Youngstown, and Lawrence Boley, 34, of East Liverpool, hit when they both came around a curve from opposite directions and could not be stopped in time along the one-lane, 12-foot wide road.

Boley's car received considerable damage and Golubic's auto minor damage, patrolmen said.

Ship

millions of dollars, more than 70,000 men idled and ships stalled at their docks, Goldberg said this is a toll "the nation cannot afford at a time when every effort is being made to stimulate the economy."

The strike has immobilized an estimated 150 American ships on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts. More than 800 others at sea face a tie-up when they make port.

Goldberg outlined his peace formula as Director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported an impasse in the New York settlement negotiations.

Among issues besides wage demands and other proposals that would go to the three-man panel to be appointed by Kennedy is the delicate matter of union insistence that ship owners grant collective bargaining rights on American-owned vessels flying foreign flags.

Reports On Trip Through S. America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson reports to President Kennedy today that economic want and social unrest are on the march in South America.

Stevenson will temper his sober note with the observation, however, that increasing too is "official awareness of the needs for economic and social reform and progress and the growing menace of communism."

Kennedy sent the U.N. ambassador on a whirlwind tour of all 10 South American countries to get a sounding on the administration's alliance for progress program. Stevenson's mission also was to find out what kind of reception the Communist-oriented Castro regime in Cuba was getting.

"We found a tremendous interest and hope in the alliance for progress," Stevenson said on his arrival Thursday night in Washington. "The conviction is universal that more rapid social and economic development is imperative."

And, on communism, Stevenson said: "If there was any idea that communism in Cuba is only a problem for the United States, I believe we dispelled this illusion."

Stevenson said he found meager support for the Cuban prime minister but "a broad feeling for social reform."

Earlier, in a brief stopover in Puerto Rico, Stevenson said the economic and social situation in Latin America had deteriorated since his long journey south of the border last year.

"The poor and hungry man, awakening to the knowledge of a better life, will not stand back and wait forever," Stevenson remarked.

He said the trip was "successful in all respects," and he was met everywhere with an extraordinary welcome and hospitality.

Sheppard

fatally in the bedroom of her exclusive Bay Village home in suburban Cleveland.

Sheppard, then 32, has since steadfastly maintained that a "bushy haired intruder" killed his wife.

Sheppard was convicted of second-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. His appeals have been carried all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court without success.

The former osteopath, whose mother committed suicide and whose father died shortly after the trial, is eligible for a parole hearing in 1965.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, also of Bay Village, said his brother "has a little lymphatic involvement, we don't know what it is. It could be trauma or from some other cause."

Another doctor brother, Stephen Sheppard, told the Chicago Tribune it was a "breast tumor."

The cancer experiment at the penitentiary in which Dr. Sam took part in 1958 involved injecting live cancer tissue into his left arm.

The test—to see if any of the 171 volunteers would contract cancer—was started in 1956 by the Sloan-Kettering Foundation of New York and the Ohio State University Medical Center.

Senators

ceive—but not act on—messages from the Senate.

Representatives postponed several actions until next week and adjourned an hour and a half Thursday. Among other things, action was postponed on a resolution calling for a study to see if Ohio's schools and colleges have adequate teaching materials to present a full picture of democracy versus communism.

The resolution resulted from the picketing of the Statehouse earlier in the year by some young persons in protest over U.S. involvement in the unsuccessful Cuban invasion.

Two Stark County representatives, Bernard K. MacKenzie, a Canton democrat, and James E. Thorpe, an Alliance Republican, submitted a resolution calling for an amendment to the state constitution.

An attempt to do away with so-called Blue Laws, it would state: "No laws shall be passed or enforced which abridge or prevent the pursuit or transaction of any business, otherwise legal, on any day of the week; provided that the sale of intoxicating liquor may be prohibited or restricted."

The proposal would have to be passed on by voters at a general election. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle contends all such Sunday activities should be made legal, except unnecessary ones, and may send a message to the legislature.

Eichmann Claims He Saved 20,000

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann claimed today that he saved 20,000 Jews from extermination by diverting them to an already overcrowded ghetto in Lodz, Poland.

The former Gestapo officer charged by Israel with major responsibility for the Nazi extermination of six million Jews also claimed that the diversion of the 20,000 to Lodz was the first and only time that he had the chance to make such a decision.

Otherwise, he asserted, his superiors were responsible for extermination orders and he only arranged for the transport of the Jews to the death camps.

"I had the choice personally to determine the fate of these 20,000 Jews," he told the three-judge Israeli court, "and I did not want them to be sent to the East where I knew extermination was going on but sent them to Lodz where I knew that no such thing was going on."

The former Gestapo lieutenant colonel, in his fourth day on the witness stand, testified:

1. SS Gen. Heinrich Mueller, his immediate superior in charge of Department IV of the security police, had "the direct contact" with the Einsatz commandos, the blitz battalions that murdered two million Jews, partisans and Gypsies in the East.

2. Interior Minister Wilhelm Frick and SS Reichsfuehrer Heinrich Himmler teamed to create the framework that led to the deliberate extermination of the Jews on an order from Adolf Hitler.

Eichmann certified documents introduced by his counsel, Dr. Robert Servatius, as showing that Gestapo Department II supplied the gas vans and trucks used by the Einsatz commandos.

"I gave no orders nor made any arrangements. My Department IV-B-4 had no connection with these affairs," Eichmann declared.

The trial recessed for the week end, after today's testimony.

Grand Jury

missioner Frank Wilson or any one else wants to file one, then he will take action.

Commissioner Wilson, of Wells-ville, has been an outspoken critic of County Home Superintendent Russell Phillis, who was named by the previous board of commissioners and has civil service protection. Phillis was appointed Feb. 5, 1959, succeeding Ray T. Adam, who was superintendent 17 years.

The next grand jury will not meet until the September term of court.

Wilson, a Democrat, and Republican Commissioners Walter A. Hunston and Galen Greenstein, have had numerous disagreements. Wilson several months ago charged that County Home Superintendent Phillis had ordered him from the institution.

The advisory board, in its recent report of the Home, suggested that a public hearing be held at an early date.

In part, the report said "The residents were found generally to be in a very unhappy frame of mind, and a general feeling of unrest and fear among them was quite evident."

The board said many residents were "very reluctant to speak up, stating that they would not dare talk for fear that severe disciplinary measures would be taken against them."

A few of the residents did speak up, the report says, citing censorship of mail, abusive treatment both physical and otherwise on the part of the management and insufficient quantities of milk allowed at meal time.

3 Women Fined for Trespassing

EAST PALESTINE — Three women were fined $50 each and given suspended 30-day jail sentences Thursday by County Court Judge Herbert E. Arfman on a charge of trespassing, which had been reduced from a charge of child-stealing.

The defendants are Mrs. Louise Dreitzler of Chillicothe, her mother, Mrs. Lillian Steele, also of Chillicothe, and her sister, Mrs. Gretta Miller of Columbus.

The charge of child stealing had been brought against the women by David Dreitzler of Fairfield Road, south of Columbiana.

The accuser, divorced husband of Mrs. Dreitzler, charged that the women had visited his home and had forced the estranged couple's four children, who were residing with him and his second wife, to accompany them to Chillicothe last May 11. He claimed the women used a gun to compel the children into leaving.

The children's release was secured through a court order and the children were returned by Ross County deputies. A pickup order was then issued for the three women.

The charge was reduced to trespassing with the agreement of Dreitzler to permit Judge Arfman to hear the case. The hearing lasted more than five hours.

Castro

as saying the 1,167 were the only ones of the group who were innocent of crimes against the Cuban people.

Castro was further quoted as saying he had accepted the intervention of the Tractors for Freedom Committee because he considered the committee to be "descent and serious" since Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was a member.

However, Castro said the committee's ultimatum showed its intention to break off negotiations and lay the blame exclusively on the Cuban government, the radio reported.

The committee already had ordered aides, barring a Castro acceptance, to return unopened to senders more than 60,000 pieces of mail that had piled up in P.O. Box Freedom in Detroit. Most of the mail was believed to contain public donations which the committee had asked.

The deadline was established after Castro told a four-member team of agricultural experts the committee sent to Cuba last week that he had in mind 500 heavy-duty tractors worth $28 million when he broached a willingness to swap anti-Castroists caught in an abortive April invasion aimed at his overthrow.

The committee had offered 560 light, farm-type tractors that would cost an estimated $2.5 to $3 million with plow attachments.

It said in its ultimatum it had no intention of swapping heavy-duty tractors that could be converted to military uses.

Nicklaus of OSU Favored to Capture Big Ten Golf Title

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Ohio State's Jack Nicklaus, the country's leading amateur just at voting age, was a solid favorite to win the Big Ten's 10th National Collegiate Golf Championship going into the semifinals of the 64th tourney today.

He had two other Big Ten players for company in the foursome left 199 starters — his opponent, sharp starter Gene Hunt of Michigan State, and his teammate on the Ohio State team, Mike Podolski.

Podolski faced Steve Smith of Stanford, a Green Bay, Wis., boy who deserted the Big Ten territory and pulled the major upset of last years NCAA meet by knocking off Nicklaus 4 and 3 in the third round.

Del Rice of the Los Angeles Angels formerly played professional basketball with the Rochester Royals of the old National Basketball League. He was with them five seasons.

Hot Stove Leagues

Two well-pitched games were hurled in Class H action as Merchants Vending downed Hobbycraft, 13-3 behind the one-hit pitching of Nelson Stoddard and Tim Weingart and Ailes Insurance edged Home Furniture, 6-5, on a two-hitter thrown by Craig Anderson and Jim Marks in two of six Hot Stove League battles played Thursday.

In other encounters E. W. Bliss tripped CIO 3372, 9-6 and Leetonia slipped by Famous Market, 10-9 in two Class E tilts; Salem Stamping defeated the Youngstown Kitchens nine, 7-5 in a Class F game, and in Class G, league-leading Italian Club hung a 13-12 loss on the Eagles in extra innings.

Class H

Stoddard started for Merchants Vending but was relieved by Weingart in the middle of the third when Hobbycraft tied the game at 3-3.

In the last of the fourth Merchants Vending came alive as they pushed 10 runs across the plate to take the lopsided victory. The winners scored on three hits, seven walks and two errors.

Ailes Insurance had a 3-1 lead on previously unbeaten Home Furniture but the Furniture nine collected four runs, on two hits and three walks to grab a 5-3 margin going into the fifth frame.

Undeclared Ailes with three runs in the fifth inning managed to snatch the win away. Ailes scored on a single by Rick Jackson and two walks. Anderson cracked a homerun for the winners in the second inning.

After a 1-1 tie, E. W. Bliss tallied four runs in the third inning to take a 5-1 lead which it continued to add to and never fell behind.

Three-hit pitching by Hilt Moffett handcuffed the CIO 3372 aggregation but eight walks and eight errors by Bliss help the losers keep in contention. Moffett struck out nine CIO batters in capturing the win.

Pacing the Bliss attack were Larry Charnesky and Clyde Stoffer with two hits apiece.

Leetonia was led to its victory by Coseno who hammered for four doubles in four times to the plate and by Oxley with three hits, including two doubles.

Famous Market took a 7-6 lead over Leetonia in the fifth frame and increased it to 9-7 after six

San Francisco four games from the top by beating the Giants 8-6. And Pittsburgh defeated Philadelphia 5-1.

The Reds, out-hit 8-6 by the Cards, came from behind with two unearned runs in the fourth inning, then wrapped it up with a three-run sixth off loser Larry Jackson (3-7).

George Altman, Billy Williams and Jerry Kindall each hit home runs and drove in two runs as the Cubs beat the Dodgers for only the third time in 12 games. The Dodgers, who had homers by John Roseboro, Daryl Spencer and Duke Snider, blew a 4-1 lead.

The fifth place Braves, winning four in a row for the first time, hammered five home runs, two by Frank Thomas, while putting away a three-game sweep over the Giants.

Burgess Raps Two Homers
Two home runs by catcher Smokey Burgess drove in the Pirates' first four runs. Both shots were off John Buzhardt (2-8), who hit Burgess with a pitch in his third trip to the plate and was handed an automatic $50 "beanball fine."

Stepanic's Smash Deming's 21-2

Herron's Trip IM 4-3; Old Dutch Takes League Lead in Class AA

If a spoiler title is going to be given in the softball leagues this year Herron's Transfer has it wrapped up. Herron's of the second game in a row has knocked the league-leader from the top spot as it toppled Industrial Mining out of a tie for the lead, 4-3 in Class AA action at Kelley Park Thursday.

In other games Old Dutch took over sole possession of first place by downing Shaffer Ford, 10-3 and Stepanic's Tavern blasted Deming's, 21-2 behind the two-hit pitching of Jim Stonemetz.

Herron's connected for only five hits while Industrial Mining smashed 10 safeties but the Herron hits drove in the runs.

HERRON'S JUMPED out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Tucker and Sam Pridon belted singles. Two walks helped the Herron cause.

Two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth iced the contest for Herron's. Pacing the Herron attack were Dick Wyss with two hits and Roger Stittle with a double.

Davis and Bob McMasters each had two hits apiece for Industrial Mining. The losers connected for at least one hit in every inning.

Old Dutch racked up 15 hits in grabbing the league lead with a 5-1 mark over Industrial Mining who is 4-2 and Stepanic's who now sport a 5-2 record.

The winners tallied a run in the first frame and never were headed.

Paul Herman was the hitting star for Old Dutch as he connected for a triple and two singles in three trips to the plate. Jack Roesti blasted a homerun for the winners in the fourth frame driving in three runs. Ed Miller also lashed out three hits, all singles, for the winners.

Don Brudery led the Shaffer Ford aggregation with two hits in two official trips to the plate. Roller captured the only extra base hit for the losers when he socked a double in the second inning.

STEPANIC'S UNNORCKED an 18-hit attack as Stonemetz handcuffed the Deming nine after the first frame.

Deming's Mellinger rapped a triple and Hardy connected for a double in the first inning to send the losers into a 2-0 lead that was shortlived. Those were the only hits off Stonemetz.

Stepanic's came roaring back in the last half of the first inning to take a 10-2 lead and never was headed. The winners smashed eight safeties, all singles, in rolling up their total. Ben Roelen, Myers and Roach each collected two hits apiece in the inning.

An eight-run third frame was capped by homeruns by Roach and Drakulich, a triple by Stonemetz and a double by Roelen. After three innings Stepanic's held an 18-2 lead and coasted into an easy victory.

Roelen and Myers had three hits for Stepanic's while Roach had a perfect day going four-for-four.

Tribe Attempts to End Slump

Mossi To Face Perry In Tiger-Indian Opener

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two weeks ago, Cleveland was hot when it met Detroit. But the Tigers cooled off the Indians and the Tribe hasn't been the same since.

Now the league-leading Tigers come into Cleveland Stadium for the start of a four-game series tonight, holding a three-game bulge over the slump-ridden Indians.

The Indians were rolling along on a nine-game winning spell when they reached the Motor City on June 8. They split the four-game set with Detroit. But then the hitters stopped hitting and the fielders became week—18 errors in the last 9 games. As a result, the Indians lost eight of the next 13 contests.

Even the Cleveland pitching collapsed during the current four-game losing streak, illustrated best by the 15-3 and 11-1 doubleheader setback in Chicago Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, Detroit recovered in fine shape from its tough series with the Indians and went on to take seven out of 10.

Manager Jimmie Dykes hopes

Cleveland can bounce back in this series. Jim Perry (6-4) shoots for his fifth straight triumph in the opener, against the Tigers' Don Mossi (7-1). Perry has permitted just two earned runs in his last 24 1-3 innings, an indication he may be back to the form that produced 18 triumphs in 1960.

Three Salem Drivers Race At Canfield

Three Salem drivers are among the stars appearing at Canfield Speedway Saturday.

They are veteran Rabbi Hippley, who drives a 1956 Ford in the late model events and Dick Shasteen and Merle Welling, newcomers in the amateur division.

These three pilots will be among the some 50 drivers on hand Saturday when the late models and amateurs get together for an eight-race program.

Hippley is currently running 16th in the standings, but this is no indication of his driving skill. He is one of Canfield's top pilots, but his car hasn't been running in top condition. He drove as a replacement for Bob Hillman of Warren last week.

Welling made his first appearance behind the wheel of a race car last week and didn't do too bad. He ran seventh in the heat race and out of 25 starters finished 16th in the feature. He drives a 1952 Mercury.

Shasteen drives RA-1, a 1940 Ford. He drives under the Rod Angels Hot Rod Club of Salem. In two features this year he has placed 11th and 13th.

The eight races Saturday will include two heat races in each division, an Australian pursuit for each and a 25-lap feature for the late models and 20 laps for the amateurs.

Time trials begin at 7 and first race gets rolling at 8:30 p.m.

League Officially Organized; Seven Schools 'In'

Salem Delays Decision on Cage Loop

By BOB JULIAN

The Ohio Big 8 Basketball Conference is a reality and will begin operation this winter but only seven of the eight schools involved definitely disclosed that they will join the new cage loop.

In a meeting held Thursday at the Lape Hotel here, principals, athletic directors and coaches of the eight schools officially organized the new league by approving the constitution and by-laws and electing a president and vice president to head the executive board.

ALLIANCE, CANTON McKinley, East Liverpool, Massillon, Niles, Steubenville Big Red, and Warren Harding announced that they are ready and able to become members of what is perhaps the strongest basketball league in Ohio.

The eighth school, Salem, is definitely interested in becoming a charter member of the new conference, but has not as yet received a decision from its athletic board.

F. E. Cope, Salem athletic director, speaking in behalf of the athletic board, said that two questions are holding up a decision by the board. First, the board wants to know what the duties and responsibilities of the commissioner will be, and secondly, what are the requirements to get into the league and to get out.

Cope said that the board met last week and delayed its answer until after this meeting to see what answers would be given to the questions it posed. The final date for entering the league as a charter member was set at Aug. 15.

Whether or not Salem will join the conference will have to wait until Supt. Paul Smith, who is chairman of the athletic board, comes back from Colorado where he is teaching. He will be back at the end of July, Cope informed the group.

Gail Herron, a member of the Salem school board and the athletic board, was present along with Coach John Cabas and Cope representing Salem.

FOUR PRINCIPALS were in attendance representing their various schools, George Bates of Steubenville, Homer Richmond of Alliance, Ed Masonbrink of Canton McKinley and George Hargraves of East Liverpool. Hargraves was elected president of the executive board and Richmond was chosen the vice-president.

The league will be run by an executive board which will be made up of all the principals of the schools in the league. A commissioner will also be employed by the league and will be in charge of appointing all officials for league games; collect assessments as determined by the board; render to the board an account of all financial transactions; act as co-ordinator for all league activities and arrange for the dispersal of information to all the news media.

The commissioner will hold the position of secretary-treasurer on the executive board.

The name of Larry Brown, retiring superintendent of Ravenna schools, was suggested as a possible candidate for the commissioner's position. Brown is president of the State Athletic Board of Control and chairman of the N.E.O. District Athletic Board. He will leave the latter two posts in September.

Hargraves and Merrill Hall, athletic director at East Liverpool, will talk to Brown today to see if he is still interested in the job. Brown's name was brought to the group's attention by Cabas who had talked with Brown previously. Cabas said that Brown was definitely interested in becoming commissioner of the new conference.

Each school will be assessed $50 as an initial entry fee and then at the end of each year the schools will be assessed only for the amount to make $400 which will be the operating capital of the new conference.

A LEAGUE CHAMPION will be chosen this season. Warren is the only school that plays all seven member schools. The league by-laws stipulate that all member schools must have scheduled other league schools by the 1963-64 season to be eligible for the championship.

The champion will be selected on a point basis. A team will receive a plus two points for a win and a minus one point for a loss. This system will be used until all schools play each other.

If Salem enters the league they will play three teams, East Liverpool, Niles and Warren in 1961-62.

When all schools begin playing each other the championship will be determined by a point system which will grant two points for each win. If two schools play each other twice the first game will count in the league standings. Canton and Massillon are the only schools that play each other twice.

Palmer, Geiberger Lead Western Open

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Par in today's second round of the Western Open Golf Tournament should look a good deal less like a holiday turkey after a boarding house dinner.

Tee markers were moved back to normal placing after 61 sizzling players in the 149 man field gorged themselves on sub-par scores to start the $30,000 event Thursday.

Already Arnold Palmer of Miami, Fla., and ex-University of Southern California golfer Al Geiberger took the biggest bite. They led the field with 6-under-par 65s. The 6,730-yard Blythfield Country Club course plays to a par of 36-35-71.

Bunched in a six-pack one stroke behind the leaders were Michigan-raised Dave Hill; Doug Sanders of Dallas, Tex.; Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla.; Sam Snead; Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and host club pro John Barnum.

Fifteen others cruised in with scores of 67.

Tigers Dump Nats 6-4 To Retain Game Lead

By The Associated Press
The Detroit Tigers retained a one-game lead in the American League with a 6-4 victory at Washington Thursday night while the second place New York Yankees, with Whitey Ford winning his 12th and Roger Maris hitting his 27th home run, breezed past Kansas City 8-3. The victory also gave the Tigers a three-game bulge over idle Cleveland as they head into a four-game series against the third place Indians tonight.

Baltimore beat Minnesota 8-2 and Boston defeated the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in the only other games scheduled Thursday night. Maris hit a pair of doubles and a single in addition to the homer, a three-run shot off loser Norm Bass (4-6) that capped a five-run second inning for the Yankees. It was Maris' 15th home run in June three shy of the major league record.

Consecutive doubles by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash cracked a 4-4 tie in the seventh inning for the Tigers, who twice had to

Lease Paces Merchants to 15-5 Victory

The Salem Merchants unleashed a 19-hit attack in downing Negley, 15-5 in a County-City Baseball League encounter played at Negley Thursday. The game was a make up tilt of an earlier battle that was rained out.

Casey Lease was the big man with the bat for the Salem nine as he connected for four hits in four trips to the plate. Dick Beall and Don Wukotich blasted three safeties for the winners.

Bob Morlan and Tony Everett each socked a triple for Salem and Wukotich smashed a double for the only extra base hits by the Merchants.

Salem pushed two tallies across in the first frame and added eight more in the second to take a 10-5 lead. In the second inning Salem belted seven singles in running up its total.

Salem added two runs in the fourth, one in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

Hyatt banged out two singles and a double to pace the losing Negley nine. J. McCowin hammered out two hits for the losers.

Negley scored all its runs in the first two innings. The host nine collected four runs in the last of the first to grab a 4-2 lead that lasted not quite a half an inning after Salem got started pushing runs across in the second frame.

The winning pitcher was Lynn Barnett who struck out seven and belted two hits to aid his own cause. Barnett was relieved by Dick Loudon in the fifth frame. Loudon also pounded out two hits for the locals.

McCowin suffered the loss for Negley.

Salem is now 6-5 in league play while Negley is sporting a 1-9 mark.

Salem will play host to Columbus Sunday at Centennial Park. Game time is 2 p.m.

3 Laotian Princes Decide To Let King Form Coalition

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—The East-West conference on Laos appeared destined today to dawdle along doing little until King Savang Vathana picks a new government for the strife-torn nation.

The prevailing view is that Prince Souvanna Phouma, self-styled neutralist backed by the Communists, is sure to be named premier. But unless the normal pace of developments in Laos is accelerated, that won't happen for weeks.

The job of forming a new cabinet was thrown to the Laotian king Thursday by the three princes who head the warring factions in the little Southeast Asian country.

They ended a four-day conference at Zurich with a vague statement calling for national unity and a decision to let the king name a coalition government. They stipulated only that all three factions—pro-Western conservatives, pro-Communist Pathet Lao and neutralists—must be represented but did not specify how the power should be decided.

Delegates from 13 other nations marked time here all week hoping the princes would produce a coalition government to represent Laos at the conference and tell it what the Laotians themselves will agree to.

The main points of the agreement signed by the princes represented important concessions by Western-backed Premier Prince Boun Oum.

King Savang favors Boun Oum and dislikes Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother and ally, Prince Souphanouvong, chief of the Pathet Lao rebels.

Among the points in the joint statement obviously conceded by Boun Oum were:

1. Rejection of military alliances and protection by military blocs such as the West's Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Laos is not a member of SEATO but a protocol to the treaty provides for
